NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Europe's destructive war faded far into the background today for thousands of baseball fans who thronged Yankee Stadium and clustered about radios for the opening of the game's greatest spectacle—the world series which this year pits the hustling Cincinnati Reds of the National League against the powerful New York Yankees of the American League.

The generally fair but warmer weather predicted for today was expected to produce an attendance of between 50,000 and 60,000 in Yankee Stadium.

Turkish Military Mission In Conference At London

(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 4.—Formal military talks between British officials and the Turkish military mission headed by General Kiazom Orbay commenced today.

The conversations, frankly aimed at wooing Turkey away from Soviet Russian blandishments, are expected to take up such matters as passage of British and French warships through the Turk-controlled Dardanelles in the event of military necessity.

It also was expected the conferees would consider the question of British military and financial aid to Turkey in the event of possible Russian or German activity in the Balkans.

The Turkish government today notified the Polish ambassador to Turkey that it does not recognize the Russo-German partition of Poland, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Ankara.

If the report, that Turkey has refused to recognize the partition of Poland is substantiated, it may prove an indication of the real attitude of the Turkish government toward the European conflict.

Britain Presses Forward With New Phase Of Her Economic War On Germany

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Oct. 4.—Great Britain pressed forward today with a new phase of her economic warfare against Germany following Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's blunt speech announcing that "no threat" can force England or France to abandon their war aims.

While Britons tightened their belts in anticipation of a prolonged struggle following Chamberlain's speech, reliable sources disclosed detailed financial plans are being drawn up for closer trade relations with the Scandinavian countries.

One of those countries—Sweden—supplies Germany with 60 per cent of the Reich's iron ore imports. Others supply the Reich with timber, coal, dairy products and cellulose.

Empire War Cabinet
At the same time, it was understood the dominion governments will be asked to send representatives to London to form an empire war cabinet which will keep in constant consultation with the Chamberlain war cabinet and Supreme Allied War Council.

With the question of continued war or a negotiated peace again to the front as a result of yesterday's debate in the house of commons, the London Daily Sketch reported a peace move by Premier Mussolini (Continued On Page Two)

Truce May Be Hitler's Move

Possibility Truce May Be Suggested In Speech In Reichstag

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—The possibility that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler may propose a brief truce in his forthcoming speech to the Reichstag to enable a thorough canvass of peace proposals was predicted in well-informed German sources today.

The Fuehrer, it was said, is anxious for this brief respite from open hostilities in order that all diplomatic means may be brought to bear to forestall large-scale war and provide time for the peace plan he intends to outline.

For this reason, the German version of "all quiet on the western front" will continue in effect under strictest orders from Berlin until after the Reichstag session, when Hitler will put it up to France and England whether hostilities are to reopen.

See Intensification Of Warfare Soon

(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 4.—The British government "may be said to be open for consideration of any peace plan offered by Nazi Germany through some legitimate neutral power," it was stated in a semi-official British broadcast today.

The general opinion, however, the broadcast said, is that the present lull is only a resting period for active combatants and a busy one for diplomats and that the inevitable result can only be intensification of warfare.

Annual Mummies' Parade Scheduled For Halloween

Those small boys and girls who feared the night might not be a Halloween celebration in New Castle this year needn't worry any more. There will be a celebration, a Mummies' parade on Tuesday night, October 31 and under the auspices of the Merchants Division.

Harry Girard has been named as the general chairman of the affair and promises that, weather permitting, the celebration this year will top anything of its kind held in the past.

McClelland, Grand Marshal
Lester McClelland has been appointed grand marshal of the parade and will have four divisions in line. His division marshals and aides will be named later.

Edward Haines, a veteran of Halloween celebrations has been named as vice general chairman of the evening with the following committee:

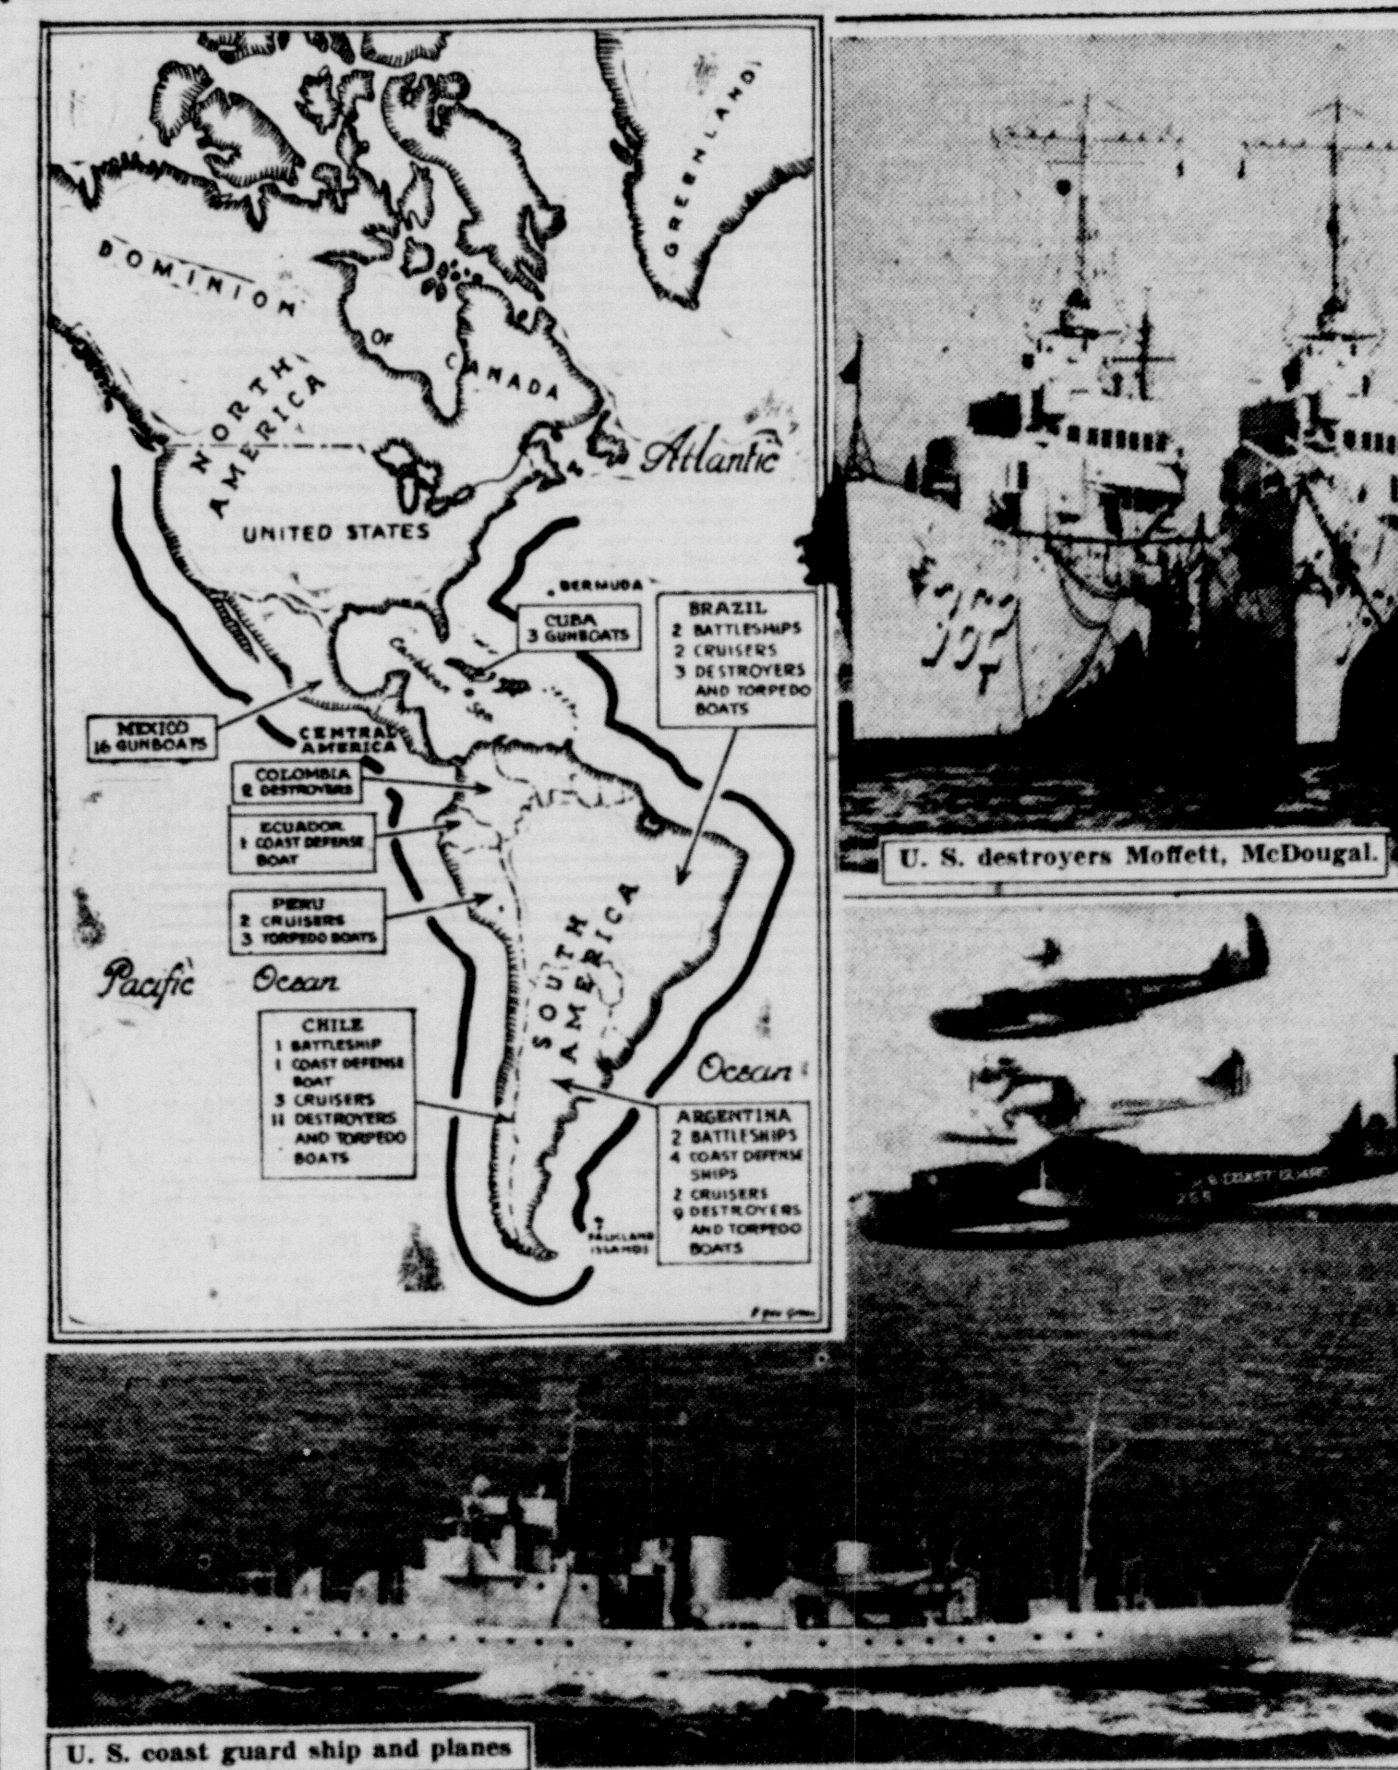

Prizes, E. S. Dickinson, Bands, R. E. Rentz, Safety, Lew Miller, Judges, William E. Langan, Flares, Jack Houston, Boy Scouts, Hans Drio.

Committee members will be announced later, the names above being only the chairmen. General Chairman Girard will call his committee chairmen together soon for a going over of the plans.

It is anticipated the prize list will approximately $200 in cash. Only cash prizes will be given. This obviates a lot of work and pleases the Mummies. A dollar cash prize is much better than a box of corn starch or a necktie rack.

The first grand prize will be $25 in cash, the second will be $15, the third $10 and the fourth $5. After that the prizes will scale down to fifty cents.

Plan 350-Vessel Patrol Of American Waters

U. S. coast guard ship and planes
With the current Panama conference of 21 American republics adopting the suggestion of establishing a 300 to 350-mile neutral ocean "band" around North and South America, a fleet of 350 armed vessels becomes immediately available for the task of patrolling these zones. Map, above, shows the number of vessels which can be contributed to the patrol fleet by western hemisphere neutrals, other than the United States. Of the 350 warships the United States probably would contribute 280 war vessels, besides many planes now in coast guard service.

Senator Seeks To Have U. S. Join Efforts For Peace

Introduces Resolution Into Senate Session Early This Afternoon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A resolution putting the senate on record in favor of American efforts to bring about peace in the European war, was introduced in the senate today by Senator Johnson (D) Colorado.

The resolution provided that "it is the sense of the senate that every effort should be made by the United States in conjunction with other neutral nations to bring about an early termination of the European war."

The clerk read the resolution before a silent senate and galleries packed with spectators who had come to hear the second day of the historic debate over repeal of the U. S. embargo on shipment of arms to belligerents. The resolution was then referred to the senate foreign relations committee.

Gay Southside Halloween Plans Launched By Board

The Southside Board of Trade last night voted to sponsor a gigantic Southside Halloween celebration on the night of October 31, and launched a move to have trolleys through the Southside section replaced by motor coaches.

Attorney Joseph Leta, Jr., was named general chairman of the celebration, and a large group was assigned to assist him. Parade grand marshals will be Harry Clark, Maurice Markley and Dominick Cliffo.

Other committees designated were:

France Reconciled To Fact That War Can End Only After Battlefield Victory

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The French council of ministers met in secret session today to decide whether to reject any German peace offers in advance or to consider them and make counter-proposals which would mean the end of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's domination of Central Europe.

During the session, the council completed plans for establishment of a ministry of blockade to cooperate with existing agencies and the British government in the "economic war" designed to starve out Germany. Full details of this step were announced, but on the "peace front" all deliberations were shrouded in mystery.

What decision was reached—if any—was a closely-guarded secret. A communique issued after the session gave no intimation of France's reaction to the "peace offensive," but there was every political and military indication that France remains reconciled to the fact that the war can (Continued On Page Two)

PARIS.—With every indication that neither France nor Britain will accept any "transparently baseless" German peace offers, the French council of ministers met to decide whether to reject Reich peace proposals in advance. The war bulletin announced a calm night except for artillery exchanges south of Zweibrücken.

BERLIN.—Authoritative German sources felt that Premier Chamberlain of Britain, although he refused in his London speech yesterday to yield to threats, left the door open for peace. A war communique announced 72 additional steamers have been seized by German naval forces since Sept. 30.

LONDON.—Britain's economic warfare entered a new phase as financial plans were drawn for closer trade relations with the Scandinavian countries. Dominion governments soon will be asked to send representatives to London to form an imperial war cabinet.

MOSCOW.—Finland was expected to be the next nation to be "invited" to send a representative to Moscow, following visits from the foreign ministers of Estonia, Lithuania, and Latvia.

U. S. Home Defense Will Be Expanded

Regular Army To Be Increased

Old World War Destroyers To Be Recommissioned For Service

NEUTRALITY PATROL WILL BE PROVIDED

By GEORGE DURO
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—While the senate today resumed debate over cash-and-carry neutrality President Roosevelt let the nation know that he thought the best way to keep out of Europe's war was to build up an impressive home defense—even if the federal treasury had to run up a temporary deficit.
Law or no law, the president was prepared to add 100,000 men to the military establishment and recommission a number of World War destroyers—and then trust the regular session of congress in January to foot any additional bills.
The 100,000 men already have been "ordered up" on a strictly voluntary basis for the army, navy, Marine Corps, National Guard and Coast Guard. Similarly, the destroyers of 1917-18—some 40 of them—have been recommissioned for America's "neutrality patrol." This was done by executive order under the president's proclamation of a "national emergency within peace-time limits."

Some Complications
Mr. Roosevelt conceded frankly that while he could run up a deficit for pay, food, clothing, etc., he was somewhat stymied by the law which requires that additional barracks and hospital beds can not be constructed by deficiency appropriation. Along the same lines, he said he had authority to recommission the World War destroyers but he didn't have enough money to actually refit them for service.

So the president put the whole problem up to Comptroller General Fred H. Brown, a former Democratic senator from New Hampshire. Said Brown, as the president explained it at his press conference, don't ask me that question. Congress intended obviously an expansion of the national defense. Certainly in January it will straighten out the complicated situation, it was stated.

Backing up the president on part of his legal premise—he was careful to say there was a conflict of law—were two supreme court justices, Harlan F. Stone and Felix Frankfurter. The two justices were week-end cruise guests aboard the White House yacht, Potomac, and rendered enough curbstone opinions to encourage the president to go ahead with his home rearmament.

We are going ahead with absolutely essential housing, hospitalization and ship repair, declared Mr. Roosevelt, and then put it up to congress in the regular January session.
There was a careful distinction between the regular session and the current special session now embroiled in a knock-down-drag-out debate over neutrality revision. The president re-emphasized his determination to confine the special session to the issue of arms embargo repeal.

Just a hint was forthcoming, however, that once neutrality is out of the way—and the administration is confident it will win—there may be some last-minute business proposed to the legislators.

fire in furnaces. Pa Newc learns that there is a dearth of firewood in most homes. It used to be when groceries or merchandise came in wooden boxes, it was no trouble to get firewood, but now nearly everything comes in corrugated pasteboard boxes, which are mighty hard to split up into kindling wood. Usually it is necessary to make the fire on several times at this season, as it is allowed to go out on hot days. This is hard on the kindling wood. Some enterprising woodchoppers might do a thriving business by bundling up kindling wood and peddling it around woodless homes.

Dorris Fulkman, of Pulaski township, is preparing to take a truck load of Hubbard squashes to Tampa, Florida. He expects to start early next week. It will probably be the first time in the history of Lawrence county that any farmer has ever taken a truck load of squashes to Florida. So Fulkman will be a real trail blazer. Usually truck loads of fruit and vegetables come north from Florida, but it seems that there is a shortage of Hubbard squashes in the land of flowers. They raise squashes down that way, but they are usually wet and soggy. Fulkman's husband's, of which he has about 20 tons this year, are dryer than a Jersey sweet potato, and as alluring to the palate as sweets from a clover honey comb. If he finds oranges or grape fruit ripe, he will bring back a truck load, otherwise he will load up with vegetables of some sort.

John S. Crowl, former citizen, who is now living in Oil City, where he is operating the Oil City boiler works, was back in town yesterday. He comes down regularly every week or so, as he finds it hard to tear himself away from his old associates. He says that he finds New Castle enjoys an advantage over Oil City when it comes to freight rates, the difference in favor of this city being something like four cents per hundred. He also remarked that he is paying 19 cents for gasoline, right where it is made, while he can come down here and buy it for 16 cents. New Castle has a lot of advantages when you compare it with other cities.

Lawrence county officials are at a loss to explain the large increase in the number of cases of insanity during the past few years. Care of patients in state institutions is becoming increasingly burdensome. As shown by the report of the county controller, it cost the county, $7,649.51 to keep persons suffering from mental trouble in various hospitals of the state during the month of September. The largest bill was from Dixmont hospital and the second largest from Torrance. Insanity increase does not appear to be peculiar to Lawrence county. It is general, and our state institutions are becoming so crowded, that it is hard to get patients in them.

From the United States mint comes the information that five billion pennies have been lost since the work of minting them was first started. These misplaced coppers may be in many children's banks, a lot of them here in New Castle. The penny, being our smallest coin, we're not as careful of it as we should be. When you lose one you're apt to say, "O, it's only a penny, let it go." But pennies make the dollars. The sales tax, in many places, has brought out the need for pennies, but happily we don't have the sales tax here.

It's best not to get excited over war news until you know that it is true. The news gathering agencies would be glad to furnish truthful news, but it's censored and colored to suit the nation from which it comes. Newspapers must print it as it comes over the wire or throw it in the waste basket, and if the latter were done there would be a howl for war news of some kind. Your confidence in the truth of what is claimed will likely lie in the sympathy you feel for one side or the other, but it's best not to form a judgment until you at least get something from both sides. The only thing you can feel certain about is that the war will not be over until the last shot is fired.

At the November 7th election, Ohio will vote on a constitutional amendment to guarantee increased state pensions to all non-working residents over 60 years old, $50 for single persons and $80 for married couples. There's not likely to be any opposition from persons over sixty.

Apparently examiners on the state motor police squad are bearing down on applicants for motor driving privileges. Of 75 only 38 passed Tuesday. The council met as the hull on the western front continued. War communiques No. 61 announced that the night was calm except for artillery exchanges south of Zweibrücken. This undivided attention was focused upon the government's deliberations.

Discuss Treatment

Apparently the main subject of discussion was the manner in which the peace proposals are to be treated, when and if they come.

One strong faction favors an outright rejection, refusing even to dignify the Nazi manoeuvres by treating with them at all.

Another group is urging Premier Edouard Daladier to retaliate with a series of stiff counter-proposals including such obviously unacceptable terms as the evacuation and restoration of Poland and Czechoslovakia and demilitarization of the Rhineland.

It goes without saying that the present Nazi regime could not even consider such suggestions.

Reports circulated widely thruout Paris this morning that the Nazis had already conveyed some concrete proposals along the lines this correspondent outlined yesterday. But the best sources said this was not true—that the plan had been insinuated only indirectly and unofficially to government heads in Britain and France.

Saturday Is Last Day To Register To Be Eligible To Ballot November 7

Saturday, October 7, is a very important day to voters of Lawrence County, for it is the last day for electors who have never been registered since the installation of the permanent registration system to appear personally at the Registration Bureau at the Court House and register. There are also many voters who have registered but due to their failure to vote at least once within a two year period, their registration has been cancelled. These voters must re-register if they wish to be entitled to a vote in November.

Any elector who has removed his residence from one election district to another election district must notify the registration bureau that such a change has been made and the last day for a voter to notify the bureau is October 7, 1939.

Saturday, October 7, is also the last day on which an elector may change party enrollment to vote at the November election.

There are a few miscellaneous facts which may be of value to some of the electors of the county and they are listed below.

Any person who will be of age on or before November 8, 1939, may register on or before October 7, 1939, and will then be entitled to vote at the November election.

Any person who was not born in the United States must bring proof of his personal naturalization or if he is naturalized through the naturalization of another person, as a child who is naturalized through the naturalization of his father or mother, or a wife who is naturalized by the naturalization of her husband, then the naturalization papers of the other person must be produced.

Anyone who has moved after September 6, 1939, will not be entitled to vote at the November election, unless the removal was from one residence to another residence within the same election district. October 9 is the last day to notify the registration bureau of a change of address within the same election district.

The Registration Bureau will remain open until 9 p. m. on Wednesday, October 4, 1939, and until 6 p. m. on Saturday evening, October 7, 1939.

Beck To Speak At Quotarians' Fete

Vocational-Industrial Counselor Coming From New York October 14

BANQUET TO DRAW FROM EIGHT CITIES

CAMERON BECK

Cameron Beck, nationally known vocational and industrial relations consultant and for 17 years personnel director of the New York Stock Exchange, will be the guest speaker before a banquet of eight clubs of Quota International's District Three in The Castleton, Saturday evening, October 14.

The New Castle Quotarians will entertain delegations from Pittsburgh, Altoona, Beaver, Butler, Brownsville, Johnstown, and Washington that night.

Mr. Beck, according to word received by local club officers, will arrive in the city shortly before the dinner hour of 7. It has been some time since he visited New Castle before.

Spent Years With Youth

Now making his headquarters in Radio City, N. Y., Mr. Beck, for whom the whole world has been a laboratory, served for five years as head of the New York Stock Exchange Institute, following his service as personnel director. In the Institute he trained young men desiring to enter the brokerage business.

As a globe-trotting vocational guide, Mr. Beck has raked up a grand total of 700,000 miles in 14 years.

He has spoken in 48 states and his audiences have numbered educators, business men, clergymen, clubmen and editors. All have praised the home-spun delivery of Mr. Beck's thought. He has been referred to as the "human being" that came out of Wall Street.

Quota leaders look forward to the prominent speaker's visit as one of the outstanding events on their calendar this season.

Relief Rolls To Be Purged Soon

Non-Job Seekers Are Ordered Slashed From State Relief Rolls

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—Non-job seekers receiving state relief were ordered slashed from relief rolls today by Secretary of Public Assistance Howard L. Russell in letters that went out to all county assistance boards.

Russell, moving forward with the department's program designed to "purge" 35,000 unnecessary recipients from the relief rolls, directed the boards to cut from the rolls all able-bodied, untrained persons between 20 and 40 years who failed to look for jobs "where there is evidence that suitable employment opportunities exist."

He warned the county boards, however, to use discretion in enforcement. Russell said that the board should not too zealously push the ruling.

In addition, he declared that each person affected must be protected in his right "to appeal as an individual and offer evidence that he has sought employment and been unable to find it."

Russell's letter put into effect a resolution adopted by the state board of public assistance last week authorizing the "purge." The resolution was adopted after a study in Bethlehem disclosed that of 156 single persons, given two weeks to find employment, only five failed to do so.

GERMANY CLAIMS MORE STEAMERS TAKEN

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—An additional 72 steamers have been seized by German naval forces since Sept. 30 and a number of them which carried contraband have been escorted to German ports, an official Reich war communiqué announced today.

On the western front, the announcement stated, all was "quiet" save for "weak artillery activity" near Saarbrücken.

The communiqué added that there was "sporadic fighting with remainder of Polish units in the territory between the Russo-German demarcation line and the new border line."

French Have Advantage In Gains Made On Front

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER International News Service Staff Correspondent

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE MAGINOT LINE, Oct. 4.

American newspaper readers who are following the war on the western front with colored pins on large-scale maps may now correct their front-line in accordance with one carried by your correspondent and brought up to date during a 48-hour tour of French positions.

Unless otherwise noted, the line runs on the side of the Maginot line nearest to Germany through the outskirts of the following places in French hands, and except when the frontier is indicated as the line, it is invariably on German soil.

No German Troops In France

No German troops are on French territory.

Beginning near Luxembourg and working east, the line runs through Oberperl, then just left of Buschdorf and just west of Wehingen, then on the German side to Cottenberg, Schwerdt and Heining to St. Oran.

Then it goes from Ueberherrn through the midst of the forest to Warndt about two kilometers on the German side of Lauterbach, then from Ludweiler to a point well north of Graud Rossell, through a point in the midst of the forest of Arnauld to a point west of Krughelette.

Then on the German side to Spichern, following the German edge of Pfaffenwald (a forest), then from Fuchingen to Mittelsbusch and points on the German side at Scheidberg and Ohrenthal to Riedelberg, Rolbing and Walschbronn, then along the frontier to the Rhine.

Valuable Advantage

Examination of this line reveals a superficially very shallow advance, but actually, according to expert military opinion, the French have gained a very valuable advantage during this period when Hitler, during on putting over his "bandit peace" has given no orders to his army to push back hard.

The French have, in the first place driven the Germans nearly all along the line back too far to have observation posts overlooking the permanent defenses in France. French authorities lay great stress on this. They have now got close contact nearly all along the Siegfried line while the Germans have lost their contact with the Maginot line in nearly all sectors.

It is possible now for the French usefully to employ direct observation from eminences overlooking the German positions and to supplement the invaluable reconnaissance made by aviation.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

By specific order of Chancellor Hitler and the Propaganda Ministry of Germany, the ancient Oberammergau Passion Play will be given its usual decennial production next year, regardless of the war. All male residents of the tiny Alpine village were ordered last March to begin growing beards and long hair, as the play does not allow make-up.

The section of the cast is now beginning.

The saintly Anton Lang, whose life was given to his gentle portrayal of the role of Christ, died last year at the age of 63, saddened because there had been pressure to replace him by a younger man who would give an "up-to-date, vigorous, dynamic portrayal of the Saviour."

The replacement had been made before his death, the role being taken by a young relative, Alois Lang.

The implications of these changes in the role of Christ, the commercialization of the play which began in 1930, the very fact of the play being given in the Europe of today give a hint of apocalyptic thunders, a new validity to the Book of Revelations, when one notes that many of the cast already have been called to war—the ultimate blasphemy of this role epic of three centuries duration.

In 1634, after the Thirty Years' war, the black plague swept Europe. The little village of Oberammergau, high in the Bavarian Alps, built a ring of fire around the hamlet, and posted guards to repel any who might approach. The quarantine was effective until a homesick youth who had been straying in the hills, crept through the defense and brought the infection. In a few days forty persons died.

The villagers, in a ceremony in which all were in attendance, pledged Providence the devout enactment of the Passion every ten years until the end of time if they should be spared from the plague. The play was given as an act of faith, profoundly real and moving to the deeply religious villagers. Thereafter there were no more deaths from the plague, and the play was given every ten years. In 1674, the date was changed so that it would fall in the decimal years.

The villagers always had maintained themselves easily and adequately with their flocks and handicrafts, including the making of tiles for porcelain stoves, which was Anton Lang's craft. But in the post-war inflation period, there was suffering and want, and the players, visiting America, raised about $100,000 for relief through the sale of their handicraft.

The first play in which commercialization had definitely crept in was in 1930. Outside promoters, organizers and exploiters of various kind had gained a footing; you could find a money-changer who would serve you on Sunday if you were of the political elite, there were privileges and special rates for lodging for insiders and there was organized and highly secularized booming and publicizing of the play. The simple, naive villagers and the devout players perhaps understood little of all this, for it was none of their doing.

This commercialization no doubt could not be assessed against the rising Nazi movement, as it had not gained power at that time, but in later years, the play became just so much new grist for the propaganda mill, as a lure for tourists, and the play now has been virtually taken over by the same Ministry of Propaganda which has fostered a return to the pagan gods in Germany.

A friend of this writer, who attended the play in 1930, found infinite sadness in the perversion of the play and the little Arcady where it is given.

"It is a mountain village of exquisite, simple beauty," he said, with its tumbling stream and the constant tinkle of little cow bells. The people undoubtedly have been fashioned in character and demeanour by their preoccupation with the sacred drama. It was shocking to find the growing taint of commercialism and publicity, and the availability of special privileges if you would pay for them."

One wonders if the villagers might not again build a ring of fire to save them from a more deadly and all-pervasive terror than the black plague.

Here's What we were Shooting at!

ROME, they tell us, wasn't built in a day. Well, neither was this 1940 Buick you see burning the breeze here.

You'll understand why when you know what we were aiming for. We wanted to combine in one car all the best we've learned in our 36 years in this business.

We think we've got it now. A stand-out sparkling car with action power and staying power.

It would be hopeless to try to list the whole range of new features — there are some 72 in all.

But you can't drive this car a mile without knowing that you have got hold of something that tops anything you ever handled.

It's smoother, steadier, firmer on the line. It gets up and goes right now, and keeps going without wander, tailwag or wind-swerve.

It takes the roughest roads in its stride, and while we don't want to go hinting about speed, this eager baby can do forty-five in first!

The sudden, soaring, millrace power of its matchless Dynaflex straight-eight engine, electrically balanced after assembly to micro-poised perfection, is velocity smoothed to velvet.

Yes, this beauty is our all-time high — the car we've been shooting at for lo! these many years.

Come drive it and you'll see why.

Radio Amateurs Watch Air Lanes For S.O.S. Calls

Burn Midnight Oil In Many City Homes Waiting For Chance To Hear Signal

Ears of many of New Castle's radio amateurs are held at attention until the wee hours of the morning, several nights each week, as they hope, at any moment, to hear an SOS signal from some ship in distress.

Quite a thrill is experienced as the short wave dials are scanned by the amateurs, for they never know what the next point on the dial will reveal.

Only the most expert of the amateurs burn the midnight oil in wait of the unexpected, for the ship radio operators send their messages so fast that an inexperienced operator would be unable to copy it.

Red Cross Not In Community Chest

Annual Roll Call Drive Is Separate Program Of Red Cross

With the Community Chest drive opening October 16 and continuing through to November 1, many people are of the opinion that the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross is a member of this splendid group of civic organizations. Due to national policy of the American National Red Cross, chapters throughout the country are not included in local chests.

This is true of the Lawrence county chapter and Norman E. Clark, chairman of the 1940 Roll Call, speaking about this misunderstanding, has said: "It is the hope of our chapter that the Red Cross that the Community Chest drive under the leadership of Attorney Marshall Matheny will be most successful. However, I wish to call to the attention of all our people that the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross is not a member of the chest and in no way shares in the funds solicited, during the drive this month."

"The Red Cross chapter joins all of the other chapters of the entire United States during the month of November in the annual Roll Call which is the only time during the year, unless emergencies arise, when they go before the public with the invitation to join the American Red Cross. I feel that it was very necessary to make this statement as our office has been contacted on several occasions and questioned about our part in the chest functions."

Beauty is Paramount in the 1940 Chrysler Line

The "Beautiful Chrysler for 1940". This picture shows the Royal 6-passenger sedan, destined to be one of the most popular models in the line. This car has a wheelbase of 122 1/2 inches, 3 1/2 inches more than the corresponding model of 1939, and 108 horsepower, as against 100 horsepower in 1939.

The Chrysler Royal coupe, notable for its graceful lines and exceptional roominess. Coupes come in three and six passenger body styles. In the Windsor New Yorker models a six-passenger convertible coupe is available.

Rear view of the "Beautiful Chrysler for 1940", 6-passenger sedan. Note the completely redesigned rear line, ending with a stone deflector. The rear window line has been increased 15 percent in size, and is made of curved plate glass.

The instrument panel of the 1940 Chrysler Royal is a combination of beauty and utility. Light colored plastics are used to fine effect.

Striking front view of the "Beautiful Chrysler for 1940", 6-passenger sedan. Note the longer hood, cleaner lines and attractive radiator grille with horizontal chrome molding.

Completely redesigned and restyled, the Chrysler line for 1940 represents what the company considers its outstanding achievement in beauty. It is, in fact, an entirely new line with beauty so definitely the motif that in all its advertising and sales promotion efforts the company refers to the cars as the "Beautiful Chrysler for 1940". Along with its improved appearance, the car has been better mechanically in many respects. The result is that it has an improved performance, added comfort, greater safety and superlative riding qualities to match its eye appeal.

Six models, comprising a total of 26 body styles, are offered. These are designated as the Royal, Windsor, Traveler, New Yorker, Saratoga and Crown Imperial.

The Royal is offered in the Three-passenger coupe, Six-passenger coupe, Six-passenger Victoria, Six-passenger sedan, Eight-passenger sedan and Eight-passenger sedan-limousine. The Windsor has all these body styles, plus a Six-passenger convertible coupe. Body styles in the Traveler are the Three-passenger coupe, Six-passenger coupe, Six-passenger Victoria, and Six-passenger sedan. In the New Yorker all these may be had plus a Six-passenger convertible coupe. The Saratoga comes in but one body style, a Six-passenger sport formal, with combination leather and cloth trim. The Crown Imperial, corresponding to last year's Custom Imperial, lists a Six-passenger sedan, Eight-passenger sedan and Eight-passenger sedan-limousine.

Chrysler's "Cruise and Climb" transmission (overdrive) is offered as extra equipment at added cost in all models save the Royal and Traveler and is standard in the Crown Imperial. The famous Fluid Drive, introduced with such marked success last year in the Custom Imperial, is later made available in the Imperial models, is offered in the New Yorker and Saratoga as extra equipment at added cost and is standard in the Crown Imperial. In all cases where Fluid Drive is used, overdrive is essential.

All models are similar in appearance, differing only in size and the quality and variety of trim and equipment.

The front end has been simplified and made more beautiful by a thoroughly modernistic treatment. The hood is longer than those of the 1939 cars. The radiator grille, with horizontal rustless steel moldings, gives the car massive but at the same time thoroughly artistic appearance.

The rear-end graceful, distinctive lines are entirely new, ending in a stone deflector or bumper panel that cleans up the appearance of this part of the car. The tail lights have been raised for additional protection and the rear window in the sedans is an undivided sheet of curved plate glass, for greater vision and the avoidance of reflections. The cars can be had either with or without running boards, as preferred, at no extra cost.

The wheelbase of the Royal and Windsor has been increased 3 1/2 inches, now measuring 122 1/2 inches. Three and a half inches also have been added to the wheelbase of the Traveler, New Yorker and Saratoga, bringing it up to 128 1/2 inches. In the Crown sedan the wheelbase is now 145 1/2 inches, an increase of 1 1/2 inches over last year.

This increased wheelbase naturally helps the riding qualities of the car but an even more important advance in this respect is the improved weight distribution. The rear axle has been moved back 7 1/2 inches and the engine advanced 4 inches in relation to the front wheels. This increase in the "cradled" area between the axles in which the passengers ride, where, obviously, they are less affected by the jolts and jars incident to road irregularities.

Both front and rear seat have been widened, giving the cars actually greater seat width than most of the famous Airflows, which set new standards in this respect. Leg room has been increased three inches in the rear compartment.

Another Airflow feature is the use of full width doors to the rear compartment. The rear edge of these doors drops in a straight line, instead of having the usual "dog's leg" design. This means that entrance and exit are facilitated and that women do not risk soiling or marring their costumes in the doorways. It also permits the rear door windows to be lowered completely out of sight. Rubber seals have been placed around all doors, to keep out drafts and dust.

Interiors have been restyled and made more beautiful, comfortable and convenient. Pillow-type Air Foam cushions, made of spun rubber, are used to supplement the conventional wire cushion springs.

The instrument panel has been improved in design with a wider use of plastics, safety signals are incorporated in the speedometer and all gauges. These gauges show a warning in case of low fuel supply, low oil pressure, high temperature of cooling water or excessive discharge on the ammeter.

Steering has been improved, through changes in the steering geometry and through the fact that the increased percentage of weight in the front end of the car naturally inclines it to keep going in a straight line.

Power plants have been improved for the complete line. Horsepower in the Royal and Windsor has been increased from 100 to 108. With premium fuel, the horsepower is raised to 110, and with a special aluminum head, to 115. This is developed at 3600 r.p.m. by an engine of 3 3/4 bore and 4 1/2 inches stroke, with 6.5 to 1 compression ratio. The piston displacement is 241.5 cubic inches.

The engines in the Traveler, New Yorker, Saratoga and Crown Imperial are of 3 1/2 inch bore, 4 1/2 inches stroke and 6.8 to 1 compression ratio, with a piston displacement of 323.5 cubic inches. They develop 135 horsepower at 3400 r.p.m. In the Crown Imperial an aluminum head is standard, giving 137 horsepower.

The Superfinished aluminum alloy pistons of all engines are given a tin plating that resists scuffing and contributes to long life. This is a new development in the 1940 models. Each piston has four rings.

Practically all working engine parts and some chassis parts are Superfinished. By this exclusive process, developed by Chrysler, bearing surfaces of virtually perfect smoothness are achieved. By means of these Superfinished parts Chrysler engines maintain their original close tolerances a much longer time and are insured of long wear and efficient operation. The "breaking-in" period is reduced to a minimum.

Chief Tells How To Keep Engines Off Your Street

Fire Chief McIlwain Gives Suggestions In Connection With Fire Prevention

OBSERVE WEEK TO CHECK HAZARDS

Next week will be observed nationally as Fire Prevention Week, and some practical suggestions as to how residents of New Castle can keep the fire engine off their street during the coming year are given by Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain.

Chief McIlwain said: "Your fire department is at your service whenever needed, but we know you don't want to see the apparatus in your neighborhood, so here are ten steps to help you prevent fires:

- (1) Clean chimneys, furnaces and stoves. Repair or replace all worn, broken or rusted parts or pipes. Protect any material charred by radiated heat.
- (2) Never force heating plants in cold weather. Call in a heating expert to locate the trouble if you can't keep warm. Empty ashes into safe metal cans.
- (3) Keep all paint-stained or oil-soaked rags or mops in a covered metal can unless they can be washed and hung out to dry.
- (4) Use only correct-size electric fuses. Never bridge a blown fuse with a coin or wire. Always disconnect heat-producing electrical appliances when finished with them.
- (5) Look for the approval label of Underwriters' Laboratories on electrical appliances and cords before buying them. Employ an expert electrician for all repairs or extensions to wiring.
- (6) Use only non-inflammable cleaning fluids (never gasoline, benzene, or naphtha). Recognize the hazard of quickening fires with kerosene.
- (7) Keep attic and cellar clear of paper and rubbish. Place a screen in front of the fireplace.
- (8) Make sure all gas connections are rigid and tight (avoid rubber or flexible tubing). Keep matches in metal containers and out of the reach of children.
- (9) Install a ceiling of cement or gypsum plaster on metal lath in the cellar at least in the furnace room. Change the door leading out of the cellar to one of heavy construction and that closes tightly.
- (10) Place fire stops of incombustible material between the studs in walls at all floor levels. Keep roofs in good condition as hot sparks or fire brands cause fire if they are blown into cracks or on loose materials.

If You Should Have A Fire "Call the fire department at once, but know in advance how everyone is going to get out of the building. Fire strikes with such appalling suddenness that people are apt to lose their heads and unnecessarily expose themselves and their families to danger. Much of this could be avoided if plans were made as to what each member of the group would do should a fire be discovered, and how they would escape from the building. In fact, it would be a good idea to have a home fire drill, so that the family could get a little practice in quick and safe exit from the home."

A new leaflet has been provided by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, entitled "Fire! Fire! and showing photographs of actual fire hazards in homes and telling what to do about them. Copies are available free of charge for anyone who will apply at fire headquarters.

NURSES LEAD IN LICENSE RENEWAL

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—Last year 60,859 professional practitioners renewed their licenses to practice in the Commonwealth. This number represents an increase of 2,014 over 1937, in which 58,845 renewed their professional licenses.

The greatest number of renewals occurred in the profession of nursing. In this profession 23,541 registered nurses renewed their licenses for the ensuing year. This, however, represents a decrease in renewals for nurses as compared with 1937, when 28,942 requested the extension of their licenses for another year. Other professional groups which requested large numbers of renewals are medical physicians with 13,459; dentists with 6,965; pharmacists with 6,843; optometrists with 1,601; and architects with 1,112.

Prosecutors Of Trivial Cases Must Pay Costs

Jurors Scrutinize Motives Behind Some Cases Brought Before Court

The recent term of criminal court established a record in the way of placing costs on prosecutors. In no less than four cases, the grand jury, in returning, "not true bills" placed the costs on the prosecutors in the cases. In the criminal court trials the costs were placed on a prosecutor in one important case, and the jury went even further, and placed costs on persons whom the evidence showed had taken an active interest in the case. This action of the jury was out of the usual line. In fact it has been many years since costs were placed upon other than the prosecutor, when the verdict was in favor of the defendant, but the jury was within their rights in bringing in a verdict of that kind, according to the opinion of the court. The action of the grand and petit juries, in thus disposing of costs, indicates a tendency on the part of jurors to go behind the scenes and seek to discern the real motives that lie behind some prosecutions.

It is a notorious fact that there are many petty cases in which spite work, or an attempt to get even for some fancied wrong, is the real motive behind a prosecution. Many of these trivial cases might be settled before an alderman or justice of the peace, were it not for the fact that they do not have jurisdiction. The cases embrace charges that can only be settled in court.

It is encouraging to note that grand juries are scanning the list of cases more closely in order to weed out the trivial cases, and penalize the prosecutors by placing costs on them. Once it becomes known that a prosecutor must have a real case, before it will pass the grand jury, the disposition to bring trivial cases will be definitely discouraged.

GENUINE PURE ASPIRIN

Dr. Dafoe's Column
On The Quintuplets
And The Care
Of Your Children

(Copyright 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SLEEP ROUTINES MUST BE WATCHED AS BABY GROWS OLDER

When the child is in his second year, then the problem of getting him to rest begins to be more of a task than it was during the first year.

Between a year and a year and a half, the child seems to end and the child emerges into a little girl or a little boy. Anyone who has brought up children has noticed this change. The trouble is that there is too great a tendency to make a change in the baby's rest period then. Parents should remember that when this change is taking place there is an increase in the child's activities as well as in the rate of growth. Accordingly there is a great need for rest.

Even today, well over five years though they are, the Dione Quintuplets rest between fourteen and fifteen hours every day. At night they get twelve hours' sleep—seven until seven. In the afternoon they sleep from twelve thirty until two thirty; besides that they lie down for a fifteen minute rest period before each meal.

I have spoken about this pre-meal rest period before; let me here repeat how valuable and important it is. Your child is called from his game to eat his meal. He is tired and excited from the play he has been engaged in and his nerves are on edge. Call him fifteen minutes before the meal is served, have him lie down quietly for those fifteen minutes. The result will be that a rested, placid child comes to the table. His digestive apparatus will be clicking an all cylinders. His food will do him the utmost good. This is one of those little details which are really important but which are so easily overlooked.

When a child is a year old it is practically no trouble to get him to sleep eighteen or nineteen hours every day. But by the time the average child reaches the age of two, this rest has been cut to about twelve hours. This is far too much change in so short a time.

Here's where the baby's personality enters into the problem of rest. Some children become very much engrossed in play and it is hard to get them to sleep. It is up to the parents to see that the child does get enough rest at this time. The mother must also protect the child of this age from the rest of the family. He is cute and likes to play, and of course the others like to play with him. See that this isn't overdone. When rest is sacrificed for play, the child will not do well; he will become nervous, and sleeping will become increasingly difficult.

As the baby changes into a boy or girl, routines must be watched so that no sudden change creeps in. The first step will be a gradual lengthening of the play period. As he grows older he will wake up about seven in the morning. There will be no sleeping after breakfast; he will stay up until dinner. In the afternoon, however, he will sleep almost all the time, until it is time for supper. A few minutes play after this and he will be ready to go to sleep again and sleep through until morning.

As he grows older, there will be a change in the afternoon routine. He will wake up after a couple of hours and want to get up. However, a long afternoon sleep should be encouraged as long as possible by keeping the room dark and quiet. If he does wake early, leave him in bed for a while. Chances are he'll go to sleep again if no one comes near him.

"As matters now stand Pennsylvania may confidently look forward to its greatest travel and tourist season and every community has a golden opportunity to share in this 'cash business'."

DAILY DOZEN
(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Where are the typhoid cases of yesterday?

This is the season when typhoid fever was prevalent.

Surface filth was washed into springs, wells and streams.

People drank the polluted waters, typhoid fever resulted.

Filtration and purification of water supply is the answer.

Raw milk may still carry the organisms of typhoid fever.

Chronic typhoid carriers frequently contaminate food.

Such persons, when discovered, are isolated.

How is the death rate in Pennsylvania from this disease?

Thirty years ago 2,500 died of typhoid fever each year.

Last year only about 100 Pennsylvanians died of it.

That is what medical science and health sanitation have done.

Seek To Boost W. P. A. Employment In State To Quota

State Leaders In Conference

Seek To Provide More Projects To Boost Employment At Once

QUOTA OF 150,000 WILL BE FILLED

By EVERETT C. GERRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—State and WPA authorities joined hands today in a drive to reach Pennsylvania's WPA quota of 150,000 jobs by October 15. The number of WPA workers on October 1 was estimated at slightly more than 130,000.

Irrked by Gov. Arthur H. James' criticism of WPA failure to fill 20,000 jobs in September, State WPA Administrator Philip Matthews pointed to the scarcity of projects in counties where the most unemployment was found.

Employment Increasing
Optimism grew over reports by Matthews that WPA employment was jumping up at the rate of 5,000 jobs a week.

An investigating committee composed of representatives of WPA, the Department of Highways and the Department of Public Assistance was empowered to find out why the work projects administration failed to fill its quota last month.

Governor James urged the committee to take steps to correct quickly a situation which has cost the state an estimated $1,800,000 in direct relief disbursements.

The governor insisted that the Commonwealth has been compelled to pay out in relief funds for a "burden which should have been carried by the federal government by employing the full quota of persons it had established."

Problem Examined
The entire WPA employment problem was examined in detail at a lengthy conference between Governor James, Matthews, Budget Secretary Edward B. Logan and various state department heads.

Appointment of a three-man investigating committee was decided upon, the governor explained, because of "discrepancies between the views of the highways and budget departments with those of the WPA."

The committee will visit a number of counties in an effort to solve the difficulty in placing workers on highways department projects. Lutz, home of Governor James, will be the first county visited.

Highways Department heads have advised the governor that existing projects can provide work for 40,000 men, as compared with 28,000 men employed now by WPA.

"I am confident that the committee will find a satisfactory solution to the problem," said Governor James. "The members will attempt to find out where we are falling down."

Secretary of Property and Supplies Roger W. Rowland reported that the General State Authority can provide employment eventually for at least 30,000 men a month. Grading and drainage to be done at new buildings alone will require many thousands of men, he said.

Governor James said he has received hundreds of letters within the past month from communities in all parts of the state complaining that they have WPA projects which are under-staffed, in addition to projects approved which they cannot get started.

Matthews earlier pointed out that he was forced recently by an act of Congress to discharge 65,178 persons who had been continuously employed for 18 months and to reduce his administrative force by 47 per cent.

New Industries Needed To Use Raw Materials

Big Opportunity Is Offered In Industries Of Pennsylvania, Brown Says

HARRISBURG, Oct. 4.—A ready-made opportunity to develop new types of industries in Pennsylvania through industrial research was envisioned today by Secretary of Commerce Richard P. Brown as one result of the war in Europe.

The war is upsetting international trade," Secretary Brown said. "It has shut off the supply of many imported products upon which North and South America relied."

"Substitute sources of supply can be developed in Pennsylvania. The last war gave great impetus to the dye and chemical industry in America. The conversion of the manufacturing facilities of European nations to war goods, offers the opportunity now for Pennsylvania to develop many similar peace-time industries which can promote lasting prosperity."

Christian Class At McKinley Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 4.—Sixteen members of the Loyal Women's class of the First Christian church were pleasantly entertained for their October meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna McKinley of Fourth street.

Opening devotions were led by Mrs. Frank Port, after which arrangements for a supper were discussed. To conclude an informal social hour the hostess served a refreshing repast.

The November meeting will be held on Tuesday, the seventh, at the Babcock home, in fourth ward.

Five Iowa farmers, on a national hookup, praised Triple A but voted solidly against a third term. So that settles that.

It's Going to Get You.. and you won't care!

THE SYMPTOMS are as plain as day . . .

There's a flash—a glimpse of something bewitchingly beautiful. Then it's gone . . . and your heart sinks . . . till you see it again.

Next time, if you're lucky enough to catch a 1940 Nash when it's standing still—better call up and cancel all dates.

For your foot will find a throttle—and a thrill you never believed was left on four wheels!

It isn't only the mysterious quiet of the engine . . . or the Magic-Wand ease of shifting gears a new silent way.

It isn't only the floating, smooth-as-cream feeling you get when the Fourth Speed Forward cuts in . . .

It's the thrill you get when you nudge the throttle to pass a laggard . . . and instead of that slow, "maybe" feeling, you shoot forward so fast that the other fellow looks glued to the road! It's Nash's new Automatic Overtake.

There's another mystery about the weather. Here in raw October—you're riding coatless—in air fresh and balmy as a sunny May morning!

Fact is, you could drive to Alaska, and never notice it. In its little house by the windshield, that new Nash "Weather Eye" foils the weather!

There's another mystery about the road. Ahead of you, it's filled with yawning ruts and bumps. Yet you rush over, level and flat, without a quiver, and in curious quiet.

This is your new Arrow-Flight Ride!

And you can tell by your idle hand on the wheel—that here is something brand-new in car springing!

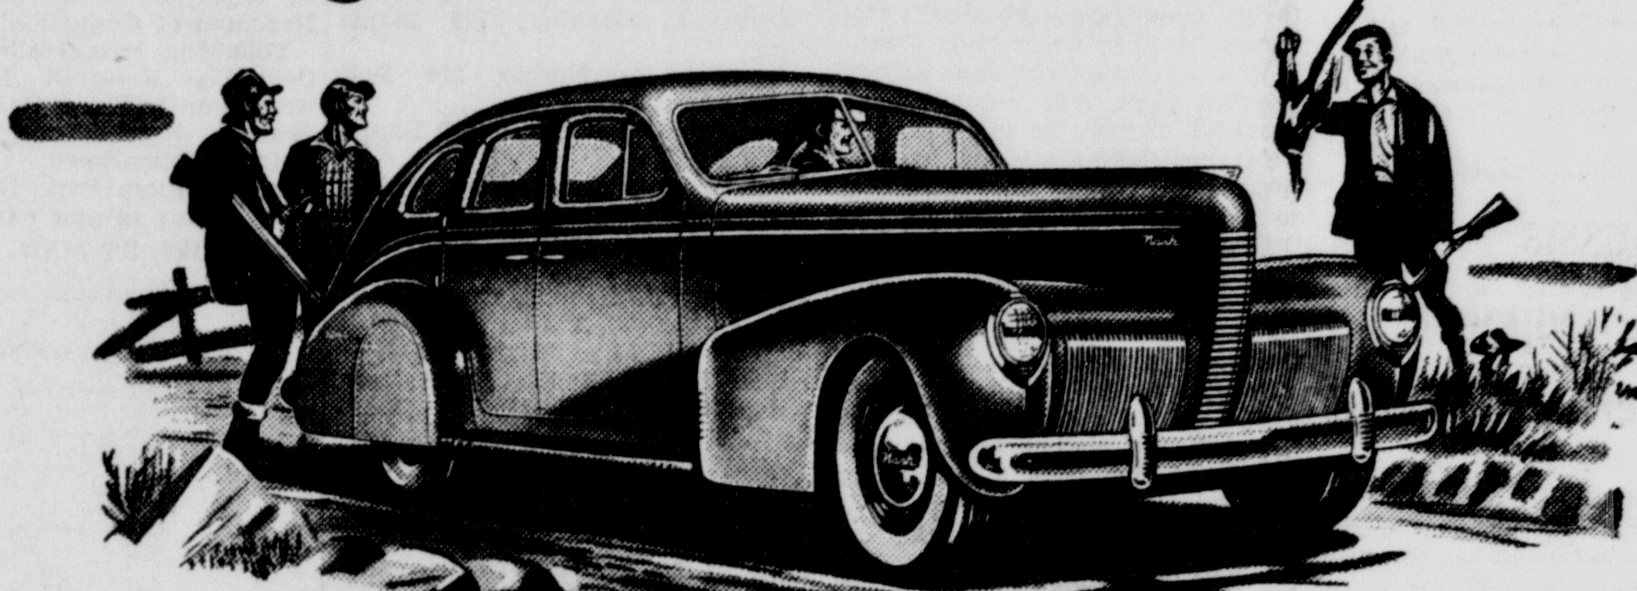

Soon you'll turn on your Sealed Beam lights, and keep on going . . . to that faraway, hidden place—where you'll make up your Nash bed beneath the sky . . . and really start living.

Yes—after a 1940 Nash your old car will seem pretty boring business.

But that's no worry! We'll show you 18 Nash models, at new low prices, and the engines that were winners in the Gilmore-Yosemite Economy runs.

So—unless you're over 80—why not flag a new Nash, and take a ride today?

Again...it's that new NASH

NEW LOWER PRICES This 1940 Deluxe Nash LaFayette Sedan costs only $875.00, delivered at factory, standard equipment and Federal taxes included. Steering-Post Gearshift, the new Hi-Test Safety Glass, Sealed Beam Headlights, and Canada Cloth Upholstery are standard on all models. The Weather Eye conditioned air system, Fourth Speed Forward, White Sidewall Tires and Rear Wheel-shields are optional extras. 1800 dealers offer nation-wide service.

World's Series To Start Today, Yanks Favorites To Win

Red Ruffing Will Oppose Paul Derringer On Mound In Opening Battle

Yanks Will Be Battling For Fourth Straight Championship, Under Strain

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Sooner or later, even to super-champions there comes a time when they are asked to make the superlatives they've inspired stand up beyond all rebuttal. Such an occasion arrived today for the New York Yankees as they sent Red Ruffing to the pitching mound to oppose Paul Derringer of the Cincinnati Reds in the first game of the world series, with the prestige earned in an unbroken three-year reign quite definitely threatened.

There was a disquieting hint here and there that if the Yankees win this series it will be in a struggle and not in a walk-away. Their pitching was belatedly are causing some conjecture, where a few days ago everything was so utterly convincing.

Yanks Favored
As to that, the betting odds have remained unchanged 1 to 3 on the Yankees, no doubt reflecting the majority opinion that finally we actually have with us the all-time greatest team so many insist they see in the hard-hitting, deft and fleet champions.

However, before an expected crowd of 60,000 the Yanks took the field for the inaugural game against the National League's best, with Ruffing depending upon a sore right arm and Lefty Vernon Gomez seemingly assigned to the bench or possibly to relief work for the duration of the series.

Ruffing Today
This in brief means that the Yankees may be forced to win this series—if at all—with scarcely more than a gesture of assistance from the two men who were mainstays of their previous conquests in 1936, '37 and '38. Ruffing has won four world series games and lost one, and Gomez has taken six straight. Gomez has been expected to miss the series—or be far from his best—ever since he went to the hospital 10 days ago with a strained side. But, also, everybody thought Ruffing's arm would be better than it was in a workout yesterday.

In today's opener it was an ailing Ruffing, with a record of 21 victories, against Derringer, also a right-hander and scorer of 25 wins, each bent upon coming in with the all-important opening victory that may mean the ultimate difference between winning and losing the series. In fact, if Ruffing loses and Gomez can't pitch the Yankees probably can't win.

Pearson and Walters
For the second game tomorrow it presumably will be Monte Pearson of the Yanks against Bucky Walters, the Reds' 27-game winner, with everything depending upon how good Pearson may be at the moment. He can be great or awful with equal nonchalance.

Ruffing and the Yanks were favored today in spite of everything the idea being that the Yanks can and will make enough runs to win no matter how good Derringer may be, or how bad Ruffing performs. That's the prescription for doing it the hard way. The notion that the Yankees are invincible has been built into an accepted fact, and there is keen disapproval of any suggestion that they may be, after all, no better than their pitching, especially in a short series.

Washington High Plays Sharpsville Here On Friday

First Home Game For North Hillers; Will Start At 3:30 O'Clock

George Washington junior high will open its home grid season on Friday afternoon at the Washington high field by meeting the Sharpsville junior high team at 3:30 o'clock.

The North Hillers opened the 1939 season rather disastrously last week by dropping a 14 to 6 game at Campbell, O., but this week Coach Alexander hopes to get the boys started on a winning streak.

Much time has been spent this week in brushing up on offense and defense plays.

The Washington squad is made up of the following young men:

Ends—Jesse Gunn, Hershel Clark, Frank Blanco, Bill Jamison, Richard Doyle, Maurice Donegan.

Tackles—Carman Costa, Henry Clark, Norman Buckingham, Max Ludwig, Charles Reed, Charles Wise.

Centers—Robert Probst and Ted Lewis.

Backfield men—Robert E. Lee, Richard Altman, Jim Davis, Harvey Burris, Robert Krestel, Kilmer Joyce, Arthur Altman, Bob Doster, Clayton Pitzer, Bill Andrews, Tom Prichard.

Student managers—Allan Barnett, Wilfred Graft, Leroy Gordon.

Sports World Ramblings

Local tidbits.—Bessemer high's defeat at the hands of Ursuline, Saturday, was the initial setback suffered by a Cement City eleven coached by A. G. Capozzuti, formerly of Slippery Rock College. . . . Joe Howley was among the few who picked Pitt to smother the Washington Huskies. Joe watched the Panthers in action last week and returned home singing the praises of the Bowser machine. Walt Raskowski, now an assistant coach, predicts a great season for Pitt, Howley stated. . . .

Getting back to earth. I do give the Reds an excellent chance of capturing the autumn Mardi Gras. Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer as stiff a test as any two pitchers in baseball this season. To them, the Yanks represent another ball club. Junior Thompson learns fast. If he pitches, you can bet all the tea in China that he will not have the jitters. He's cool. I believe these three pitchers may halt the cannons of the Yanks.

Reviewing the past campaign. You'll have to admit that guys like Dickman, Ostermuller and a few other mediocre casters stopped the Yanks cold. Walters, Derringer and Thompson are surely in a more select class than some of the hurlers who baffled the Yanks. Then, again, Ruffing strikes me as being washed up. Experience, etc., mean nothing if the stuff in the arm is gone. Gomez? Nothing to brag now. Hadley, Hildebrand, Pearson, Russo? So, so and that's all. The Yanks may outwit the Reds, maybe. Let them hit another slump and they couldn't beat an egg. . . .

Over confidence may play an important part in the series. The Yanks have been told so many times that they represent the greatest thing in baseball. No one is indomitable, the Yanks may learn. Anyhow, I think the law of averages has finally caught up with the Manhattan Bombers. So come on you Cincys, mow them down. . . .

Dopin' the series.—Because it's a cardinal rule among the sports writers fraternity to stick out the chin, I'm exposing that portion of the noggin, prepared to withstand anything. It's world series time again and I'm going to tell you who will win. You ask, "Who can't?" Just to be different, I'm going to struggle along with Bill McKechnie. What do I have to lose? Exactly nothing. If the Reds win, everyone will think I knew something. . . .

Grove City To Battle Hiram

Grovers Hope To Reverse Result In Second Contest Of Grid Season

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Oct. 4.—Thirty-odd Grove City College gridgers had a single thought today, as strenuous practice was resumed after the defeat by Clarion in the opener—to crack the varsity line-up. Many of them will do it at Hiram next Saturday, when a number of first-year men are expected to start.

Against Clarion, Coach Jim Lovelless used 33 men, and found little difference in any of the three teams. Some of the youngsters outshone the veterans, and indications are now that two freshmen ends, Nugent and Dick Taylor; Cordingley, a guard, and Marsolf, center, will draw starting assignments this week.

While Grove City lost to Clarion's veterans, as expected, the Crimson "B" team marched 50 yards before it was stopped on the one-yard line and a team composed entirely of third-stringers was as sturdy as the starting team on defense. The situation gives Coach Lovelless an opportunity to make many substitutions and to keep a fresh team in action in future games.

Mud and rain kept the stream-lined Grovers from maintaining a consistent attack, Saturday, and the elements nullified a promising offensive. This week's drills are designed to improve the Crimson open game, which must be used in lieu of power on the ground. The young Grovers, too, need plenty of blocking work, and they'll get it this week.

On the basis of their work in their first college game, several other youngsters are getting special attention this week. Among the backs, Ted Penar of Butler was a stand-out, and Mervyn Nugent, of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, is expected to earn a regular end position.

Paul Dean Is Now With Giants Result Of Draft

Billy Terry, Giants Manager, Draws Dean Out Of Hat; 13 Eligible For Draft

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Bill Terry pulled one out of the hat at the major league draft meeting and came up today with Paul Dean.

Unable to pitch because of a sore arm for the past three seasons, the junior Dean brother wound up the past campaign at Columbus and that made him eligible for the draft.

Only 13 players were drafted at the meeting. Apparently the prize of the 1st is Johnny Babich, the ex-Dodger, drafted by the Athletics from Kansas City.

Other ex-big leaguers to be granted a new chance are St. Johnson, selected by the Phillies from Rochester, Alan Strange, the shortstopper, picked by the Browns from Seattle, Leon Higgett by the Phils from Minneapolis, and Jake Mooty by the Cubs from Syracuse.

High Gridders Preparing For Battle Friday

Expect Warren To Be Toughest Team They Have Faced This Season, Ohioans Big

THOMAS MAY GET STARTING BERTH

New Castle high school's "Red Hurricane" football team is hard at work this week. Friday night they will be called upon to face the big Warren, O. Harding high team at Taggart Stadium at 8 o'clock. The locals are sporting an undefeated record of three straight wins to date.

Warren high will bring a team of young giants here for the battle. It is the heaviest Warren team in years. The backfield averages 175 and the line 180, they will outweigh the New Castle boys 10 to 15 pounds per man.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh saw the Warren boys play last week and knows what his boys are up against. Warren did not get to flash its offensive strength to any degree in the Massillon game, being forced on the defense most of the night. But, they did show "Bridy" enough so that he has just about doubled the workout periods this week. There may be a new face in the starting backfield. It was intimated today by Bridenbaugh—the young man being John Thomas. The youngster looked good in the Beaver Falls game.

Expect Big Crowd
In event of good weather the stands should be filled to capacity on Friday night. Warren will bring several hundred here. They will also bring their great band and will make plenty of noise. New Castle will have its finely uniformed band on hand, of course, and it will be a battle of music as well as a battle on the gridiron.

The crowd at the Youngstown East game was over the 9,000 mark. The crowd this week may hit the 10,000 mark. New Castle in the first two games here played to over 15,000 fans.

Penn State Will Open With Bucknell

Game To Be Played On Saturday Afternoon At State Stadium

(Special To The News)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 4.—Penn State's fall sports program will get under way in earnest this Saturday when three Lion teams see action against major opponents.

Heading the list of events which feature Penn State's annual Dad's Day program will be the football game with Bucknell, but more than usual interest surrounds the Lion country team's meet with Manhattan College, last year's intercollegiate champions.

Coach Bill Jeffrey's soccer team, the first Lion team to see action this week, will attempt to add Lehigh to its long list of victims. Penn State has not lost a soccer game since 1932.

Nittany football coaches have been busy this week convincing their players that Bucknell's loss to Gettysburg Saturday does not indicate that the Bisons will be easy pickings. Most of the Lion players, particularly those who took part in the 1938 State-Bucknell encounter, are easy to convince.

Only two sophomores are expected to line up with the Penn State varsity on Saturday. They are Mike Garbinski, 195 pound guard, from Johnstown, and Len Krouse, wing halfback from Rochester, Pa. Both of these newcomers have replaced last year's regulars—Ted Nemeth and Craig White.

A number of other sophomores are expected to see early action in the opening contest. These are Len Frketch, 275 pound tackle from Fayette City; Joe Kolenda, center and Bill Smaltz, fullback, from Aliquippa; Jack Day, halfback from Dunn's Station; Bill Deblor, fullback from Philadelphia; Larry Eugenauch, quarterback from East Rutherford, N. J.; Bill Gerhard, blocking halfback from Pittsburgh; Pepper Petrella, quarterback from Downingtown; and Dean Sears, guard from Bradford.

LEGAL QUESTION

SAVES FINE BUT STILL MAN LOSES

(International News Service)
NEW BRITAIN, Conn.—A technicality saved Abraham S. Lipman from being fined in police court, but he remained a loser.
Lipman was brought into court and accused of placing a bet with a booking place while it was being raided.
Unbeknown to Lipman, Police Lieutenant Henry Jaglinski answered the telephone and took the bet and his name.
Judge Stanley J. Traceski dismissed the case on the grounds the bet was not legal.
The irony of it as far as Lipman was concerned was that the horse bet on paid seven to one.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEKALL.

The comment that we are about to offer comes from ideas or one single idea voiced by a great many people. When the football player on our team was injured in the game with Youngstown East, why wasn't he hauled from the field on a stretcher? Some say that no stretchers were available... no more comment until we hear from those in charge of such cases... please, not by phone.

A suggestion has been made and it's a good one. Quote... why would it not be a good stunt for our New Castle High School Band, in conjunction with any visiting band to play the 'National Anthem' just prior to the starting of every football game at the Stadium here in New Castle... end quote. Mr. Conductor of the band why not try this idea this coming week... and have the entire crowd help out by singing one stanza.

Some people in this world are sure up the wrong tree... they can kick a man in the back and then when he turns around fall all over him and say sweet sticky things about him. There are several right here in New Castle. And if they think they are getting away with anything... let them think it... because they are not and all the time they are getting in deeper and deeper.

The Canning season is about over and many a cellar is not empty. It's a great feeling to look around and see the many colored jars of fruits and vegetables... sparkling in their goodness. Winter is a long affair but can be made very pleasant with the proper home life... and home life begins at the supper table. Three cheers for those who have the knack of canning.

Nuts are ripe and ready to gather... many kinds too in these neck of the woods. Farmers as a rule are too busy to gather the crop of nuts that fall on their property and a good many will give their permission for city folks to gather them. And it is a good idea to get permission. Good luck to you all.

Who will win the World Series?... many have made predictions and what have we got to lose if we predict. This column takes the Reds... we hope we don't have to eat those words in a few days. We hope, we hope, we hope. Time will tell.
